This information pertains to one of the JICA Knowledge Co-Creation Program (Group & Region Focus) of the Japan International Cooperation Agency (JICA), which shall be implemented as part of the Official Development Assistance of the Government of Japan based on bilateral agreement between both Governments.

JICA Knowledge Co-Creation Program (KCCP)

The Japanese Cabinet released the Development Cooperation Charter in June 2023, which stated, “In its development cooperation, Japan has maintained the spirit of jointly creating things that suit partner countries while respecting ownership, intentions and intrinsic characteristics of the country concerned based on a field-oriented approach through dialogue and collaboration. It has also maintained the approach of building reciprocal relationships with developing countries in which both sides learn from each other and grow and develop together.” JICA believes that this ‘Knowledge Co-Creation Program’ will serve as a foundation of mutual learning process.

I. Concept

Background

Technical and Vocational Education and Training (TVET) is positioned as a sub-sector under JICA's Global Agenda for " Education," and the development of industrial human resources that meet the needs of industry is a key factor in socio-economic development, contributing to income generation and poverty reduction. Enabling participating countries to learn about the management of Japan's vocational training institutions and methods for developing training courses, while analyzing and comparing the current situation and challenges faced by their own training institutions, will significantly contribute to the expansion of employment-oriented vocational training and the promotion of industrial human resource development.

For what?

The aim of this program is to provide participants with comprehensive insights into Japan's vocational training institutions, focusing on a practical approach to learning specific methods for addressing current challenges and ongoing improvement efforts. The program offers knowledge in institutional management and course operation, enabling the development of actionable plans to address issues within individual institutions.

For whom?

This program is designed for individuals working at government-operated institutions involved in Technical and Vocational Education and Training (TVET). Eligible participants include principals or equivalent professionals with extensive experience at such institutions, as well as vocational training instructors who hold managerial positions.

How?

Participants will acquire the necessary knowledge and skills through the following contents:

- ① To understand the role of vocational training institutions in adapting to socio-economic changes and related policy measures.
- ② To learn effective methods for promoting collaboration among industry, academia, and government in public vocational training.
- ③ To explore case studies from Japan on improving employment outcomes through vocational training.

- ④ To acquire practical management and operational methods for vocational training institutions based on the PDCA (Plan-Do-Check-Act) cycle.
- ⑤ To analyze the current situation and challenges of the participant's own institution and develop an action plan for improvement and problem-solving.

VII. ANNEX

ANNEX: No.1

Country/Job Report

to be submitted before commencement of the online program

Each participant is required to prepare and submit a Country/Job Report, typewritten in English. In preparing the report, it is preferable to include an analysis of current and future situations, as well as challenges in the administration of vocational skills development and human capital development. The Report should be typed in English and be submitted through LMS (Learning Management System) by November 17, 2025.

The purpose of Country/Job Report presentation is to share the current situation and make comparative review among the participants in order to clarify the issues to be solved in their own organizations.

The major contents of the presentation are:

- (1) General information of the country: geography, population and workforce, employment, economy
- (2) Administration in human capital development of the country: education system, administrative organs related to vocational skills development and human capital development, major policies, laws and regulations, features of TVET (major targets, programs, etc.) , current situation, etc.
- (3) Challenges: duties, issues, and special interests the participant has Presentation will be held in the initial part of this program in Japan. Each participant will make presentation based on the report in about 10 minutes (depending on the number of participating countries and participants).

ANNEX: No.2

Action Plan

to be formulated at the end of the program

Each participant is required to prepare an Action Plan.

1. What is an Action Plan?

Each participant is required to submit an Action Plan for implementation after returning home, based on the knowledge and methods acquired through the program.

2. Why are participants required to prepare an Action Plan?

JICA needs to assess the usefulness and applicability of the program in contributing to improvements or development in the relevant field or subject within each participant's country, region, or organization. The Action Plan will support this evaluation by sharing the knowledge gained through the program with colleagues and supervisors, and by enhancing program management within the home institution.

3. When should the Action Plan be prepared?

Each participant should begin drafting the Action Plan during the program and continue revising and improving it throughout the remaining period. The final version must be submitted by the end of the program.

Notes on making the Action Plan:

Each participant is required to give a PowerPoint presentation outlining a plan for applying the content of the program to specific work responsibilities upon returning to the home country.

The presentation should include the following:

- (1) A brief introduction of the participant's organization or institution
- (2) The most valuable insights or lessons learned from the program
- (3) An Action Plan that addresses the following points:
 - Avoid including any "killer assumptions."
 - Explore multiple approaches to achieving the goal.
 - (A killer assumption is a critical premise that, if not fulfilled, will render the plan unworkable.)

For Your Reference

JICA and Capacity Development

Technical cooperation is people-to-people cooperation that supports partner countries in enhancing their comprehensive capacities to address development challenges by their own efforts. Instead of applying Japanese technology per se to partner countries, JICA's technical cooperation provides solutions that best fit their needs by working with people living there. In the process, consideration is given to factors such as their regional characteristics, historical background, and languages. JICA does not limit its technical cooperation to human resources development; it offers multi-tiered assistance that also involves organizational strengthening, policy formulation, and institution building.

Implementation methods of JICA's technical cooperation can be divided into two approaches. One is overseas cooperation by dispatching experts and volunteers in various development sectors to partner countries; the other is domestic cooperation by inviting participants from developing countries to Japan. The latter method is the Knowledge Co-Creation Program, formerly called Training Program, and it is one of the core programs carried out in Japan. By inviting officials from partner countries and with cooperation from domestic partners, the Knowledge Co-Creation Program provides technical knowledge and practical solutions for development issues in participating countries.

The Knowledge Co-Creation Program (Group & Region Focus) has long occupied an important place in JICA operations. About 400 pre-organized courses cover a wide range of professional fields, ranging from education, health, infrastructure, energy, trade and finance, to agriculture, rural development, gender mainstreaming, and environmental protection. A variety of programs is being customized by the different target organizations to address the specific needs, such as policy-making organizations, service provision organizations, as well as research and academic institutions. Some programs are organized to target a certain group of countries with similar developmental challenges.

Japanese Development Experience

Japan, as the first non-Western nation to become a developed country, built itself into a country that is free, peaceful, prosperous and democratic while preserving its tradition. Japan will serve as one of the best examples for our partner countries to follow in their own development.

From engineering technology to production management methods, most of the know-how that has enabled Japan to become what it is today has emanated from a process of adoption and adaptation, of course, has been accompanied by countless failures and errors behind the success stories.

Through Japan's progressive adaptation and application of systems, methods and technologies from the West in a way that is suited to its own circumstances, Japan has developed a storehouse of knowledge not found elsewhere from unique systems of organization, administration and personnel management to such social systems as the livelihood improvement approach and governmental organization. It is not easy to apply such experiences to other countries where the circumstances differ, but the experiences can provide ideas and clues useful when devising measures to solve problems.

JICA, therefore, would like to invite as many leaders of partner countries as possible to come and visit us, to mingle with the Japanese people, and witness the advantages as well as the disadvantages of Japanese systems, so that integration of their findings might help them reach their developmental objectives.

Dear Sir/Madam,

I am directed to inform you that the Department for Promotion of Industry and Internal Trade (DPIIT), in collaboration with Invest India, is organizing a Workshop on Promoting Chapter 7 of the EFTA-India Trade and Economic Partnership Agreement (TEPA) and the EFTA Desk on 22nd July 2025 (Tuesday) at Vanijya Bhawan, New Delhi.

2. The EFTA-India TEPA, signed on 10th March 2024, includes a landmark legal commitment by the four EFTA member countries – Iceland, Liechtenstein, Norway, and Switzerland – to invest USD 100 billion in India over the next 15 years, generating one million jobs. This workshop presents a significant opportunity for Indian States/UTs to engage directly with EFTA stakeholders and pitch their key sectors, investment policies, and incentive frameworks.

3. It is requested to kindly nominate senior officials from the Industries, Investment Promotion, and sectoral departments to participate in the event and the thematic sessions detailed in the attachments: <https://docs.google.com/spreadsheets/d/1Maao32IGQN5gZYBoBdFR2JaGVqx2WMNsX4FhQSZAB34/edit?usp=sharing> by coming Friday, 04th July 2025 end of the day. The Workshop Agenda and the draft concept note on EFTA Desk is attached for your kind reference.

4. The Workshop will serve as a platform for States to present investment-ready projects, highlight sector-specific incentives, and establish direct connections with EFTA missions and business representatives.

5. Given the potential scale and long-term impact of this USD 100 billion commitment, we request your kind support in ensuring meaningful representation and engagement from your State.

6. For any further details or coordination, our office will be pleased to assist.
